Introduction

The general fund appropriation for Advances to the Unemployment Trust Fund (Advances) makes funds available for interest-bearing, repayable advances (loans) to two accounts in the Unemployment Trust Fund (UTF): (1) the Extended Unemployment Compensation Account (EUCA), which pays the Federal share of extended unemployment benefits; and (2) the Federal Unemployment Account (FUA), which makes loans to states to pay unemployment benefits. In addition, this appropriation makes funds available for interest-bearing, repayable advances to the Black Lung Disability Trust Fund (BLDTF) whenever its balances prove insufficient to make payments. These repayable advances are shown as borrowing authority within the UTF or the BLDTF and they do not appear as budget authority or outlays in the Advances account.

This appropriation also makes funds available, as needed, for non-repayable advances to the Federal Employees Compensation Account (FECA) in the UTF to pay the costs of compensation for former Federal employees and ex-servicemembers and to the Federal Unemployment Benefits and Allowances (FUBA) account to pay the costs of benefits and services under the Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) program. Non-repayable advances to a revolving fund which provides interest bearing repayable advances to the Employment Security Administration Account (ESAA) in the UTF are also provided for under this appropriation.

Detail on the non-repayable advances to FECA, FUBA, and the ESAA revolving fund is shown in the budget authority and outlay detail provided above; detail on the repayable advances is shown separately in the UTF and BLDTF accounts.

To address the potential need for significant, and somewhat unpredictable, advances to various accounts, the appropriations language for the Advances account appropriates such sums as needed for advances to all of the potential recipient accounts.
