| FISCAL YEAR & FUNDING LEVEL | FY 2001: USD 10,000,000
FY 2005: USD 6,333,602 |
| PROBLEM TO BE ADDRESSED | According to the 1991 census, 11.3 million Indian children ages 5 to 14 are working, out of a total child population of 210 million. Unofficial estimates place the number much higher, given that many children work in the vast informal and unregulated sectors of the economy. In hazardous industries, children typically work very long hours for little or no pay, do not have access to schooling, are subject to verbal or physical abuse and are exposed to various hazards, including dangerous chemicals, sharp-edged equipment, heavy loads, open flames, dust, and other dangerous substances and situations. |
| RESULTS | The project withdrew over 115,085 children from work in hazardous child labor. The project originally targeted ten hazardous sectors, including the production of bidis (hand-rolled cigarettes), brassware, bricks, fireworks, footwear, glass bangles, locks, matches, and silk, as well as in quarrying. It then expanded to a ‘sector-area’ approach targeting children in other worst forms of child labor (WFCL) as well. Target geographic areas included 20 districts in the states of Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu, and Uttar Pradesh, as well as the city of Delhi. |
| PROJECT OBJECTIVES | Contribute to the prevention and elimination of hazardous child labor by enhancing the human, social and physical capacity of target communities and improving compliance with child labor policy and legislation in the target districts.
Intermediate objectives include:
- Identify children working in the selected hazardous occupations in the target districts in collaboration with communities and other partners;
- Provide children withdrawn from hazardous work with transitional and pre-vocational education, and social support to prevent relapses;
- Provide adolescents withdrawn from hazardous work with vocational training and alternatives for... |
