Government of the People's Republic of Bangladesh
Ministry of Labour and Employment
Planning Cell (Labour-1)

Question 1: What are the prospects for ratification of Convention No. 138?

- The existence of child labour in Bangladesh is closely linked to poverty. Unless the poverty situation of the country is improved at a satisfactory level it is very difficult to abolish child labour. This also depends largely on the achievement of high and stable growth of the country's economy for which the country is starving for long. However, with all its limited resources the Government of Bangladesh has been implementing programmes/projects on regular basis for abolition of child labour. The development partners have also come with funds to implement programmes on child labour. With all these efforts there has been remarkable success. At present there is no child labour in Readymade Garments (RMG) sector. Children are engaged mainly in informal sectors. It is expected that the volume of child labour in the country will be reduced to a considerable level if the present trend of promotional activities and participation of the social partners continue. Child labour issues have been incorporated in all major national development projects and plans (like Poverty Reduction Strategy-PRS, national plan of action for education and reflection in annual budget etc.). The country has gradually been increasing coverage of social safety net programmes for its citizens which directly or indirectly affect abolition of child labour.

- The most significant challenge is to strengthen the institutional capacity and to get required resources to combat child labour. There are 157 Inspectors in the Department of Inspection for Factories & Establishment under the Ministry of Labour & Employment. They are responsible to enforce laws against Child Labour as part of their duties. The number of inspectors are not sufficient to address the child labour issues. Very recently the Government has taken measures to strengthen inspection machineries in Bangladesh by increasing number of inspectors. The Parliamentary standing committee of the Ministry of Labour and Employment is working for restructuring and strengthening of the Department of Inspection for Factories and Establishments (DIFE). The restructuring and strengthening process includes establishment of district level offices all over the country.
In the process of restructuring and strengthening of this department, technical assistance is needed.

- Considering the level of socio-economic development of Bangladesh, particularly the limitations in terms of manpower and resource constraints of the implementation authorities to address the large informal sector where children are engaged, it would take more time for Bangladesh to ratify Convention No. 138 and effectively monitor proper implementation. Bangladesh requires technical support for improvement of socio-economic conditions in addition to technical assistance for undertaking programmes on abolition of child labour.

Question 2: What have been the changes in law and practice in your country as regards the effective abolition of child labour? (policy initiatives, legislative documents, labour inspection/monitoring, judicial decisions, other related practice)

- Bangladesh has formulated “National Child Labour Elimination Policy 2010” in March, 2010.
- The Government has finalized National Plan of Action (NPA) for eliminating child labour.
- Adoption of a list of hazardous works is at final stage. Once the list is finalized, the number of children engaged in hazardous work would significantly decrease.
- The Ministry of Labour and Employment has drafted “Domestic Workers’ Protection and Welfare Policy”. This will obviously help to protect the rights of domestic workers as well as child domestic workers from the worst forms of child labour. This policy will be adopted in due course of time.
- The Ministry Social Welfare has drafted “Children Act 2010” where the age of a child has been proposed to be 18 years.
- National Education Policy, 2010 formulated by the Ministry of Education, which aims to ensure compulsory and free primary education for every child up to grade eight (average age 14 years).
- A standing committee titled “Central Committee on Implementation and Monitoring of National Education Policy 2010” (CCIMNEP) headed by the Hon’ble Education Minister has been constituted to coordinate among various functionaries and actions related with implementation of the new education policy. This committee has already developed plan of actions needed for proper implementation of the NEP.
The process of implementation of the core NEP goals relating to primary and non-formal education began soon after the National Education Policy 2010 was adopted. In January 2011 a committee headed by the Primary and Mass Education Secretary was formed with specific tasks to draw up necessary scheme(s) with required action plan, financial implications and methodologies to be adopted for implementation of the policy targets relating to primary and non-formal education enumerated in the document. This committee has submitted its recommendations which are currently under consideration of the CCIMNEP.

In the meantime, the Ministry of Primary and Mass Education has already accomplished the following short term targets in line with the plan of actions endorsed by the CCIMNEP: (a) 100% enrolment at primary level; (b) Primary Completion Examination at the end of grade V; (c) One year pre-primary education for 5 year plus children at all government primary schools; (d) Distribution of free books among all primary students; and (e) Introduction of lottery for enrolment in primary schools at grade-I level.

Besides, necessary steps are underway to implement the following decisions of the CCIMNEP: (a) Mid-day meal for primary students; (b) Introduction of information technology at all levels of primary education; (c) Use of computers as a means of education delivery at primary level; (d) Curbing drop-out rate; (e) Decentralization of management authority to local levels involving community members in all spheres of education delivery; (f) Reforming curricula and improving teaching quality; and (g) Developing appropriate code of conduct for primary teachers with a view to establishing student-friendly environment at schools.

The alliance is to address and cover social aspects of trafficking such as information dissemination, awareness raising, training, and rehabilitation and provide referral services for victims of trafficking.

- The Ministry of Expatriates’ Welfare and Overseas Employment (MoEWOE) has formed an inter ministerial/inter-agency Vigilance Task Force (VTF) in July 2010 to monitor the migration process, ensure the accountability and transparency of recruiting agencies and check irregular practices in labour migration. The VTF comprises of the representatives of relevant ministries and agencies such as the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Ministry of Home Affairs, Ministry of Civil Aviation and Tourism, Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Bureau of Manpower, Employment and Training (BMET), Special Branch of Bangladesh Police, Rapid Action Battalion (RAB), Border Guards Bangladesh (BGB) and Coast Guards Bangladesh. It also includes two members from the Bangladesh Association of International Recruiting Agencies (BAIRA).

- The Bangladesh National Women Lawyers’ Association (BNWLA) has been working as a pioneer human rights organization in Bangladesh in addressing the challenges of trafficking especially in women and children. The organization has also been working to provide legal assistance to ensure rights of women and children by delivering legal aid, psychosocial support, shelter support, rescue, repatriation, research on various issues regarding women and children, capacity building of relevant stakeholders and advocacy for reform/amendment/enactment of existing laws and policies. The BNWLA has been playing an important role within the Go-NGO National Coordination Committee of Combating Human Trafficking.

Question 3: What have been the efforts made to promote the effective abolition of child labour in your country? (you may separately mention activities related to research, compilation of information/data, training activities, public awareness-raising and other related action)

- With the assistance of ILO, implementation of the “Urban Informal Economy (UIE) Programme of the Project of Support to the Time Bound Programme towards the Elimination of Worst Forms of Child Labour in Bangladesh” has been completed in December, 2011. The implementation period of the project was 2007-2011.

The project aims to assist Bangladesh in reducing poverty through reforms of technical and vocational education and training policies and systems so that more people can acquire employable skills and thus generate income through wage-earning jobs or self-employment. The rationale for the project stems from the national poverty reduction strategy. The project is intended to contribute to the improvement of productivity in industry and services through better responding to their skills needs; to ensure rapid formation of the national human capital and improved employability of vocational education and training graduates; to enhance labour market participation, social inclusion and empowerment of disadvantaged groups–low literate youth, child labourers, women, and rural communities. The project objectives expected to be achieved through: (i) TVET policy, management and systems; (ii) Quality and relevance of TVET; (iii) Management of TVET institutions and teacher training; (iv) Workplace skills development; and (v) Access to TVET by underprivileged groups including working children.

- The Ministry of Primary and Mass Education has adopted National Plan of Action (NPA II, 2003-2015) for Education For All (EFA) to achieve the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) and identifies Quality Education (particularly in primary, secondary and vocational levels with strong emphasis on girls’ education). It has emphasized the critical importance of education and learning for empowering people with knowledge and skills as key elements of human development and poverty reduction. Commensurate with PRS framework and EFA priorities, National Plan of Action (NPA II, 2003-2015) gives pre-eminence to improving the quality of education, gender equity for both girls and boys, making education accessible, inclusive and provided for all. NPA II has set targets on enrolment, dropout, completion, and literacy rate for achievement of EFA goals by 2015. It proposes programmes for specific groups covering preschool, and school age children, adolescents, young adults, adults, literacy and NFE leading to lifelong learning. It emphasizes the high value of livelihood skills as part of lifelong learning and NFE to make the learning meaningful and ensure learners have access to wage or self-employment and micro-finance as needed to improve the quality of their lives.

- Primary Education Development Programme-II (PEDP-II): PEDP-II officially ends in 2009 but in a transitional period. Built upon the lessons from General Education Project (GEP) 1990–95 and the PEDP-I ended in 2004, PEDP-II is a six-year project from 2004 to 2009. There are 11 development partners (DP) involved in PEDP-II, led by the Asian Development Bank (ADB) and including the Government of Bangladesh. The other partners include the World Bank, CIDA, DFID, EC, IDA, Norway, The Netherlands, UNICEF/Australia, and JICA. There are five components in the PEDP-II structure. Once this list is finalized, the number of children engaged in hazardous work would significantly decrease through the process of vigorous inspection and enforcement of law in the workplace.

- In the past, BEF actively supported the ILO to implement its International Programme on the Elimination of Child Labour (IPEC) during the period

Question 5: Can you please indicate whether any particular attention has been paid to specific groups of population, workers or sectors of activity in the efforts to promote effective abolition of child labour?

Particular emphasis has been paid to the RMG and fish processing sectors. While under the ILO-IPEC project priority has been given to withdraw and mainstream the children engaged in hazardous works. “Appropriate legislative provisions would be framed in the light of the Child Labour Elimination Policy, 2010 for abolition of child labour in hazardous jobs.”

Question 6: What are the challenges and difficulties faced in the effective abolition of child labour?

Poverty and unemployment of adults are the major challenges. The centralized monitoring and implementation efforts are inadequate to reach the informal sector where child labour is prevalent. “The informal sector is very wide and in disguise. It is difficult to adopt action plan for such sector.”

Question 7: What are the technical cooperation needs in your country to promote the effective abolition of child labour?

- In addition to the ongoing technical cooperation in abolishing child labour on Urban Informal Economy, more assistance is required to address this issue among the street children, and in semi-urban and rural economy. However, since poverty has been the main challenge for effective abolition of child labour, technical assistance from overall socio-economic development of the country is very crucial. Unless the socio-economic conditions of the vast population of the country can be improved at a satisfactory level the goal of effective abolition of child labour will remain unachieved.
