Dear Friends:

Congratulations! Diana and I wish we could be with you for the signing of the proclamation that will officially designate November 14 – 20 as National Apprenticeship Week. Although that will not be possible, we will be thinking of you and the importance of this event – our second year of taking part in this important program.

This year's celebration will be bigger and better and involve more communities than last year's. It will increase the awareness of both employees and employers of the opportunity that being an apprentice can mean to an individual's present and future career. By increasing their skills workers can become more valuable members of our workforce. That will enable them to take a more active role in their workplace and make this a win/win solution for both employers and employees.

My hope is that this event will continue to grow in visibility, influence and popularity. As it does it will help bring together more and more varied programs that will make it possible for local, state and national officials to work together with our business communities to increase the number and the quality of jobs that are available to the people of Wyoming and the nation.

Diana joins in sending our best wishes and our appreciation to all those who are taking part in National Apprenticeship Week. This is just another way in which we will continue to reach out to workers of all ages to help provide them with the tools they will need to find better jobs and live the American Dream. As this program continues to strengthen our economy it will also do the same for our communities, our neighborhoods and our families.

Sincerely,
