

From: charlie_paine@hotmail.com
To: E-OHPSCA2713.EBSA
Subject: mandatoryhealth care requirements
Date: Thursday, September 08, 2011 1:42:25 PM

I have one question. where in the US Constitution is authority to mandate health care requirements to/for an individual or any health care provider given to the Federal Government or any agency of the Federal Government? The answer , of course, is that no such authority is given. Therefore this requirement by HHS to force health insurance providers to cover contraceptives and sterilization services (including those with abortifacient mechanisms of action) free of charge is unconstitutional!

therefore , I ,as a taxpayer and one covered by health insurance oppose this policy and demand that it not be imposed.

Sincerely,
Charles Paine
Tempe, AZ 85281