

You are Invited!

Please mark your calendar! On Tuesday, October 13, 2015, from 2:00pm to 3:00pm ET, the Youth Transitions Collaborative, in partnership with the U.S. Department of Labor's Office of Disability Employment Policy (ODEP) and Maternal and Child Health Bureau (MCHB) Center for Health Transition Improvement (Got Transition) will host an educational webinar entitled, Career and Health Transitions: Take Charge of Planning and Managing Your Own Health and Career Goals.

At this webinar, the Youth Transition Collaborative, Got Transition, and the ODEP-funded National Collaborative on Workforce and Disability for Youth (NCWD/Youth) at the Institute for Educational Leadership will share guidance, tools, and resources on the importance of career and health transition planning. The target audience is youth and young adults, including those with disabilities and chronic health conditions; their families; and youth service professionals, including health care providers, workforce professionals, policymakers, and other adults working directly with youth.

Click here to register for this webinar, and click on the "Register" button. You can also copy and paste the following URL into your browser address bar:

<https://hshealthcaresystem.webex.com/hshealthcaresystem/onstage/g.php?d=733076721&t=a>

The webinar will be captioned, recorded and archived. Presentation materials will be available for download the day of the webinar. If additional accommodations are needed, please contact Jessica Queener at jqueener@cscn.org.

