General Comment

I see no reason besides government wanting to over reach like usual for any regulations or restrictions should be put on how I spend or use my 401k. It is my money I put into a retirement fund for me and the government has zero rights to tell me how I can use it. Before telling millions if Americans how they can or can not spend their own money that they planned and put back for them maybe you should figure out how to stop spending so much money this nation doesn't have and pay back the 18 trillion in national debt that I did not give permission to spend. And when you figure out how to pay that back and have zero national debt you still have zero rights to tell hard working FREE Americans how they might spend what THEY earned.
