General Comment

To Whom it may concern,

My husband and I have been and are smart enough to invest in our future with investments in our retirement plans. We are smart enough to manage our retirement money. The government has mishandled social security and we don't trust , don't need and don't want the government in our retirement money spending, planning nothing. It is past time to tell you The government to stay out of our business out of our lives. We don't ask for your help. We don't want your help. Back off!
