General Comment

I've saved, others have not. Do not impact my dedication and being responsible for others who have not. I've gone with less over a number of years to prepare, virtually my entire life (since 24 yrs old, now 46). The X Gen has been told Social Security will not be there when we get to that age, prepare. The savings I've accumulated are dollars I could have spent like others already have spent. Please do not hurt me for trying to do the right thing.
