General Comment

I am completely against this rule. I'm smart enough to plan for my own retirement and know how to handle my own personal finances. I don't think it's right to put transaction restrictions for anyone living in such a critical time of their life, what they've been working all their life for, retirement. It is their money, and the government has no place to dictate where they can or can't spend their money, especially retirement money.
