I am not sure who thought up this horrendously bad idea to 'annuitize' private retirement accounts using UST's, but it tells me two things:

- Time grows short and the pols and the Goldmanites must be scurrying to get their G-V's fueled and on the tarmac ready for a get away.
- Apparently you folks believe the American people are fools to be plundered endlessly.

This will be the last straw for many of us; so IF you want to run the thing into the ground, go ahead.

But remember this: Americans may not remember what happened last Tuesday, but they can and will take action when they have finally had enough. Proceed at your own risk.

Cheers,
William R. Morris
