General Comment

I have taken the time to learn how to trade options and am looking forward to one day trading them in my retirement account. Some option trading actually reduce risk rather than increase it. Please do not take away this right for me and other fellow Americans. Its an excellent way to make money without the hard labor I can someday not do .Many people sell covered calls in IRA accounts for income and capital gains. Some have even used it as a way to create portfolio protection. If this rule passes, that will end immediately.

Thank For listening,

MJ
