General Comment

Investors in IRA's should retain the ability to write covered calls in stocks they own. There is no problem that exists, and life should be empowering people through better choices.

Liberty is being taken away if IRA investors are not allowed to keep these choices. History and our US Constitution, plus all the Amendments are written for greater rights of the individual for 225 plus years, not less.

This regulation, as I understand it, appears to conflict with the laws of our nation.

Thank You,
