General Comment

I am absolutely against this regulation. I believe it will not help in anyway and just creates more government bureaucracy that is unnecessary. The system works fine in its current form with system professional licensing. While one could write a long expose on the failures of this proposal my general belief is that it will just create more corruption in this industry.

Keep the government out of this industry! More transparency is fine but this does not do that; it is more about control over Americans.
