General Comment

Under this new rule, please do not take away the ability of IRA owners to trade stock and index options in their IRA accounts. I am a retiree who has taken the time to educate myself about responsible options trading and have been successfully trading options for income in my IRA accounts and hope that this new rule does not prevent me from trading options in my IRA accounts thereby removing a valuable source of retirement income. I also trade options as a hedge to reduce potential losses in my stock portfolio in my IRA accounts.
