General Comment

As an American citizen who is foreign born I am very disappointed that my government thinks that they have to protect me from myself. Our forefathers would be very angry with you. I should be allowed to do whatever I want within my IRA account or any brokerage account for that matter. The next thing you know is that the government will be determining how much I should save and for how long. Maybe you should educate the people or make them prove that they know what options are before trading them. Why don't you protect us by arming us with knowledge instead of taking away our rights.
