General Comment

There is a lot of information to absorb, but any attempts or rules to stop my self trading or trading of options is ridiculous. The IRA account is my money that I have saved and invested wisely. I have built up my own account and should always have control of it. DO NOT stop the trading of options. I also use them as a hedge to protect my investments and for additional income on stocks that I own.

Leave our IRA accounts alone - stop the regulation.
