General Comment

Please do not make trading options in an IRA account a thing of the past. I need my IRA to generate income to help me create enough to live off when I retire and trading options help me accomplish this goal. If trading options in my IRA goes away it will be harder for me to increase the value of my IRA - why would the government want to do something to make it harder to increase the value of my IRA?

Please don't ignore the unintended consequences with this rule - why hurt my ability to increase the value of my IRA just to attempt to protect someone else (whom could also learn how to trade options properly to create value and reduce risk).

This is a HUGE deal - please don't ignore this feedback.

Thank you.
