General Comment

Please continue to allow trading in stock options in self directed IRAs. Something as simple as covered calls and selling puts allows me to hedge against IRA losses and create income.

My major source of revenue in retirement is my Roth IRA. My life savings are in that account and I have spent my retirement years educating myself in ways of ensuring an income stream from that investment.

Please continue allowing me the freedom of investment in options with my savings.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter.
