Repectfully,

You've stolen my Social Security money and now you are attempting to take away the tools that I have that will allow me to compensate for your ineptitude ... it's outrageous!! HELLO options trading DECREASES my exposure to risk, but since you don't understand how they work, you think you are protecting me from risk ... yet again an OUTRAGEOUS overreach.

The constitution exists to protect us from government overreach. What does the Department of Labor have to do with my IRA ... stay out of my business and my decision making. After what you've done to Social Security, you should realize that you have no business attempting to HELP me any more. All of your HELP is actually hurting the very people you think you are protecting. This is a sad day for America.
