General Comment

Are you guys STUPID or has the special interest groups paid for your election again?

Option selling has been the sole bright star in my retirement accounts. I have been REQUIRED by by Scottrade folks to show training in options AND Unlike Wall Street I have not been required to receive TAXPAYER Bailouts for my efforts.

I am fully aware of the risks and REWARDS of careful option trading. Selling PUTs on company's you would be HAPPY to own at the options price is easy money and a great way to be paid to buy good companies at a discount.

Please keep your paws out of my options in my retirement accounts.

Thank you for your attention in this matter

Michael
