This is to inform you that I do not want any change in the stock options system for "my own good". I have invested much time and money increasing my education in this area and have a safe reliable way to maintain my finances into the future now without "help" from the government. I understand that people lose money in the stock market every day but most of those loses are due to greed and lack of education. You can't hold every persons hand and protect them they have to take some knocks like we all have to learn Please leave well enough alone.

Thank you for your time Paul Kinne
