Do NOT ban options in IRA

If you feel options are not appropriate, I can accept that, but, do not make this retroactive! I have had this IRA for at least 30 year and use options frequently.

I should not be penalized.

If you wish, it is OK to ban options in new accounts.

You can not change the rules in the middle!

If you have an options expert advising you, he will tell you that covered calls are an exceedingly safe option trade.
