Dear Labor:

All my life I work, pay my taxes, and invest in hopes of making my money work for me and my family. I'm a CPA and have worked in this field for decades. I took considerable time understanding investing and options. Options are my most conservative method of growing my accounts. I'm blessed having TD Ameritrade and the use of Thinkorswim to manage my accounts. Since I placed most of my earnings in IRAs and 401(k) plans, I require the continued rights to traded options. I manage my risk to my own tolerance and not to that of a congressman or congress woman.

I believe the DOL should in no way limit the method that I choose to manage my accounts.

Dennis Brininger

Sincerely,
