This should be a matter of CHOICE.

If I work and the employer pays for the Health benefit, I do not choose to be in a group and have to be reduced to taking the same doctor that someone who is not employed or lives off the system in other ways.

If employees are not offered the opt out of group health insurance to be able to keep a medical provider of higher quality, then by gosh how the heck is this system fair to the hard working public who deserve quality healthcare?
