General Comment

The Department of Labor is starting to enact regulations that would restrict how I use my own money for my retirement. Obama believe's I am not smart enough to plan for my retirement. This is the epitome of the progressive nanny state mentality. Obama and the progressives want to control what I eat, how much I make, my health care, and NOW my retirement. I can plan for my own retirement. I have spent my life working towards my retirement. A government bureaucrat should not get in the way of that. Im smart enough to plan for my own retirement!
