General Comment

I can assure any member of Congress that I am quite capable of managing my own retirement account. I do not want nor do I need any further government intrusion into my life. Our forefathers believed that government should serve the people not the people serve government. That is what they had fled. As a citizen of the United States I am disgusted with the total lack of leadership demonstrated by both political parties. I want to see people in office who want to serve the public instead of professional politicians.
