General Comment

Since you can't take care of your own business of taking care of the country and wasting the tax payers money on I think I will take my chances taking care of my own retirement. Stop jacking with the Social Security. We pay into that every pay day. when you are forced to pay into something, that is not an entitlement freebie. We pay in and we should get the returns when we retire. We already have too much Government involvement in our lives. The Government does not have our best interest in mind only their own. Too much Government, Too much Union hogwash, Too many handouts to the illegal immigrant population.
