General Comment

I have saved for my retirement and do not want the government interfering with my retirement and giving it to others. I will do that myself and always have - it should not be up to the federal government to forcefully share my retirement, especially when the bureaucrats and congressmen considering this bill will never have their welfare-like pensions affected by it. The ultra-wealthy will, again, not have to pay their fair share for exploiting and extorting the American worker.

Leave my retirement alone!
