General Comment

I am sick and tired of the government thinking that I, an average American, am not smart enough to plan my retirement or spend my own money. Why would I want the government to take charge of my money? You can't even keep America out of debt, you overspend on everything and pretty much run rampant over society. I don't lie, I don't make promises I will not keep and I am transparent. Can't say as much for the government. Once you get rid of all the "fat cats" lining their pockets with taxpayers dollars, stop the corruption and become transparent by telling the truth, maybe I will be able to have a little respect for government. Right now you are all a disgrace to the offices you hold and you should be ashamed of yourselves. Don't forget that justice does prevail and eternity is a long, long time.
