I can't believe I am even wasting time out of my day to let you know that I DO NOT want any of my 401K or IRA to be controlled by any form of government; state or federal. If the powers that be have done such a horrific job that they now are considering to take MY retirement funds to do who knows what with, then there is a much deeper issue that needs to be addressed. There should be no further discussion of this; I know this document has about lost its validity in this country but there is nowhere on the Constitution that gives the federal government rights to take over privately owned retirement accounts.
