I dare say that I hardly recognize this country anymore! We are not Communists so, keep your hands off of our retirement savings! Contrary to what you may think, it is not your money, it is ours to do with as we please! I am sick of government lies about how responsible they are to spend my money when they have proven that they are the worst at it! Social Security and Medicare are almost bankrupt and they think that we stupidly want another entitlement for them to mismanage. Our country will only survive if we get back to the founding principles of small government that gets out of the way and lets it 's people be prosperous! Every time the government takes away our money, it is just more money of the system of creating wealth. I am sick of the mentality that wants the government to wipe your butt from cradle to grave!
