To Whom It May Concern,

I oppose changing the rules for employer-sponsored retirement plans or individual retirement arrangements (IRAs) to require that existing money in these plans or new money added to these funds be directed, by mandate, into some form of annuity. I don't trust the federal government to not inflate away the value of the annuity.

Keep your hands off our hard earned money which has taken many of us a lifetime of hard work and thrift to accumulate.

You did not work for this money. You did not sacrifice to save it and it is not yours.

Teresa Ghilarducci can go soak her head.
