Hands Off Americans' Retirement Accounts

I am categorically opposed to any government takeover, management, coercive advice, or any other interference with retirement accounts like 401Ks. The government has demonstrated no facility in managing its own year-to-year finances, and its mis-management of long term obligations has been so bad as to threaten the stability of the dollar, and potentially the country itself. This is clearly an attempt to steal peoples' retirement money by stealth, so that it can be pissed away on more pork, corruption, and malfeasance.

Respect property rights; leave our retirement funds alone.
