General Comment

I am ADAMANTLY against this "request for information." My personal investments should not be the business of the Federal Government. It is bad enough that Social Security has been mismanaged enough that I will pay into it my entire life and never reap any benefits from a lifetime of servitude. Now the government wants to look into how I am saving for my future so they can determine how much of that money should be redistributed?! This is absolutely unacceptable and should be viewed as such by all Americans.
