U.S. Department of Health and Human Services,

The current definition of religious employer does not provide true conscience protection for those committed to preserving life. Healthcare plans should not be forced to violate the moral and religious convictions of providers or employees in order to participate in the health care system. Requiring such an unacceptable demand threatens both universal access to health care and religious freedom of conscience.

Please protect all American's Rights to religious freedom and do not put our jobs at risk by asking us to do something that is morally wrong to us and the God we serve.

Sincerely,
Kim Brown
