Subject: Public Comment On Required Coverage For "Preventive Health Services" For Women
Date: Sunday, August 14, 2011 10:36:46 AM

If at this late date it is at all possible to eliminate the requirement for coverage of contraception, IUDs, emergency contraception, etc from the mandate of Health And Human Services, please understand my strong position that these requirements for services in fact be eliminated. I strongly object to the killing of the unborn, even if their mother might consider them inconvenient, and IUDs and emergency contraception do, in fact, regularly end the life of an unborn child. I do not in any way wish to support this activity with my tax dollars or insurance premiums. In addition, I believe artificial contraception to be unacceptable in general, and do not want my tax dollars or insurance premiums supporting this activity, either.

Aside from legal arguments, it is absolutely wrong even from a strictly financial standpoint to require all insurance policies to cover all conditions and desires. This only serves to drive up insurance premium costs for everyone and therefore increase the cost of healthcare. It is extremely poor public policy.
