General Comment

I am appalled that this is even being considered? What ever happened to freedom of religion? Since Obama and this congress has come into power, it has become a dictatorship! We are already bankrupt as a country and now you are adding to this to our backs! Do you really believe if you forces insurance companies and companies that our already high insurance rates will not go up or companies will lay off more people to add yet another high cost to their benefits. This is totally insane to even consider this in these times, do you think that this will keep the population down when most are not responisble enough to even consider "condoms" which are almost free already much less birth control. Many are using abortions (killing babies) as thier birth control will this be the next thing that we should pay for? Enough is Enough!!!!!!!!!!
