General Comment

What has happened to the separation of Church and State? Why should the beliefs of an employer dictate what kind of medical care an employee is entitled to?

If you provide an "out" to the employer, I suggest you make equal care available through the State. We have enough trouble as it is with providing adequate health care to women.

Why is the insurance industry able to provide coverage for Viagra but not for contraception?

Please don't make healthcare a faith-based issue .

Thank you.
