The proposed changes to the filing of Form 5500 for small group employers who provide health insurance to their employees will be an added financial burden to those employers. Even if the insurance agents who sold the policies to the employer file the form (if that is allowed), the employer will still have to provide all the necessary data. That could be time consuming for the employer and impose a financial hardship to those small employers.

I request that small group employers (under 100 employees) be totally exempted from any additional filings.

Thank you.
