General Comment

Small Business... We really cannot influence any of these because we lack the clout and do not negotiate services. We can implement controls (which become barriers) to restrict coverage unless certain tests or conditions are met, but that typically means we must insert ourselves (thru our 3rd party admin) in decisions of a person's health care. So why do we need to submit additional forms which report how we are handling and improving these areas? It simply adds more costs and burdens that small businesses are already trying to control.
