Subject: Proposed 5500 Filings

I agree the current filing format is outdated and confusing.

I do NOT agree that plans under 100 lives should file.

Small businesses are the backbone of America and with all these new regulations you are doing your best to break it.

Most of these companies offered cookie cutter plans, do not have a dedicated compliance person and are just trying to run their business.

These regulations don't focus on what the small business is actually doing. Do you even have a concise specific goal/plan of what you are trying to accomplish in this business segment?

Why not get aggregate data from the insurance carriers?

It would be more consistent, simpler and less onerous.
