Currently, some financial advisers can legally provide financial recommendations that serve their own interests instead of their clients' interests, including when providing advice regarding rolling over investments in the Thrift Savings Plan.

It is hard to understand how anyone could oppose a rule requiring financial advisors to represent the best interests of their client.

There has been extensive analysis regarding the economic benefits of the fiduciary rule, yet there is little support as to why a delay would benefit the public.

In the interest of the American public please do not delay or rescind the Fiduciary Rule.