Subject: Conflict of Interest rule

I support the implementation of the Conflict of Interest rule and oppose any delay of the rule. The money-grab bubble that arrived on January 21, 2017 will soon pop. Please check your conscience and your heart, and join with those who believe in a government by and for the people -- in this case many of the voters who you will be hearing from in the not-to-distant future.

Partisan arguments aside, we have all got to behave more responsibly in the face of dwindling resources. We all have future generations we care about, but we are not behaving a realistic way that will protect a shared future for them.
