Department of Labor,

Your grandma is vulnerable to kind-seeming, reassuring-sounding pitches for everything from gutters to storm windows. Worst of all are criminal or marginally legal solicitations for her precious savings. She, or Grandpa, are apt to zone out at the fine print and naively hand over their savings because the "consultant" is so nice, or the deal sounds sensible. That's reality.

Among the greatest services DOL provides is to protect our parents and grandparents through the fiduciary rule. Please keep it firmly in place. We'll all sleep better. Gratefully...
