General Comment

Here is my opinion of this proposed new rule: It's unconstitutional, un-American and sounds like a way to steal our money. The simple fact is, it's OUR money we put into these funds, and we should be able to easily access any and all information regarding the maintenance, set-up, how benefits are accrued and paid out, how to open and close the account, and how to contact anyone and everyone who has anything at all to do with handling our funds.
