General Comment

The proxy-advisory industry must have a single purpose: maximizing the financial benefit of the shareholder. Other purposes could reduce the return on investment. Ideological purposes could very well conflict with the shareholder's ideology.