General Comment

As an individual, I am frustrated at how hard it is to control where my retirement money is invested. I'd like the federal government to make sure every 401K/retirement/pension fund has options for those who want to either focus in certain sectors or avoid/screen out others. This is a very personal issue and we should be ALWAYS able to put our money where our mouths are, so to speak. It was shocking for me to hear that the current administration wants to hinder instead of help in this cause.
