General Comment

President Trump and his administration czars don't believe in climate change and refuse to do anything about it except propagate attempts to roadblock and skew progress in addressing climate change no matter what it is. To use politics and corrupt polices to deny workers with 401k investments to put savings into social responsible companies that do understand climate science and do want to do something positive about it or any other important social belief is low and disgusting and smells putrid of corruption. It stinks just like pulling out of the Paris Accord, stinks like pulling back on CO2 emissions, stinks like allowing drilling in the Alaska Anwar wildlife preserve, stinks like okaying the Pebble Mine future disaster, stinks like rolling back fuel mileage gains and stinks like the attacks on clean water and clean air that this administration is selling off and giving away to his supporters; not the American people mind you but to lobbyist and special interest funding the Republican demise of social and economic justice at every turn. In a few short months he and his cronies that are manipulating the system for the benefit of themselves will be gone and I hope Joe Biden undoes every single thing Trump did while in office. Voters will not stand for this attack on principal and the lawsuits will continue.
