General Comment

Wow. So much for the "free market."

And so much for giving religious organizations the ability to choose God over Mammon.

Prepared for a lawsuit based on the 1st Amendment? Considering how this goes against most of the other Freedom of Religious Choice cases before the Supreme Court that the administration has weighed in on, I'm surprised that this rule change has been proposed. I guess the left hand doesn't know what the right hand's doing. Has the White House been informed of this proposed rule change?
